The Western Tornadoes.

Nearly every week, telegraphic dispate from points in the west or southwest, bring turbances, resulting in great loss of property and more or less destruction of human life. Sometimes the same tornado will ing everything in its pathway, and accounts which come from places situated remotely from each other, refer to the same tempest. it will gather strength and increase in power as it travels until its force is broken by contact with a mountain barrier.

On Thursday night of last week a rainrain which came down in torrents, were large hall stones, sticks and twigs of various sizes, and strips of board. The storm came from the direction of Mineral Point, situated southwest of Madison, and the damage were torn down, and large forest trees were of the Republic will have the immediate pest. Worse than all, the loss of life was great. The following particulars given in Friday morning's dispatches will give some

It next carried off the bouse of John Coleman, badly injuring Mr. Coleman, his two daughters and Tip Allen, who were in the house at the time. It then struck the residence of John Spensely carrying the house shattering it to splinters. Spensely's barn was taken up and carried off, and a horse in the barn was carried away with it, and them have been found. Friends of Speakers if from Dubuque, some of whom were in the house at the time the tornado struck it, escaped by taking refuge in the cellar, but Mrs. Wolter, and Mrs. Spensely were carried off with the house. The house of Martin O'Dowd was reduced to ruins. Mr. Beardaley's house and barn were carried seven or eight rods from their foundations. William Lockling's house was taken, and nothing was left but a few pieces of furniture. The school-house, about two and a half miles east of the city, was carried off, with the teachers and scholars. Two of the scholars, a brother and sister, were killed, and the teacher was slightly injured. The teacher, while holding one of the smaller scholars in her arms, was thrown several rods. Most of the children were unhurt."

We have had three fires in this city since we went to press last week. The first occurred in a dwelling house on State street owned by Wm. Hodges, and occupied by Mrs. Chandler. The loss was slight. The second which occurred Thursday night was nore serious. The cottage dwelling house of Capt. Charles McLaughlin, opposite the Mansion House lot, took fire near midnight The fire department responded promptly to the alarm, and the lower part of the house was saved. The loss was covered by the Insurance. Friday night about 11 o'clock, fire was discovered at the works of Allen & Small on the east side. It caught in the engine room and soon spread to the black smith shop and a stable adjoining, all of which were consumed. By the prompt and faithful labors of the fire department, aided by the force pump on the premises, the main works were saved, although badly damaged by smoke and water.

The exportation of domestic cotton goods continues on a large scale. During the last week reported shipments to foreign ports from New York reached the very large number of 5099 packages, and the value declared was no less than $357,114. Included in the exports were two heavy shipments to Africa of 2397 bales, and to China of 2217 bales. In addition to these, however there were other lots sent to the four quarters of the globe,—to Mexico and South America, to the East and West Indies, to England and France, and one small lot was shipped to Japan. The total number of packages sent from New York since the 1st of January is now 37,942, which is larger than that of last year by about 2300 packages, and more than 10,000 more than were ever before exported in the same time of any year.

The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, in passessing of the death of his sister. Catherine, told the romance of her early life. When Miss Beecher was 23 years old, she was engaged to be married to Professor Fisher, of Yale College. Professor Fisher, on a voyage to Europe, was drowned, and, according to Mr. Beecher, this death worked a complete revolution in his sister's character. She broke away from the faith of her father, and, adopted liberal views, and gave her whole life for the benefit of others. ----

People who still adhere to the lookat your-tongue-and-feel-of-your-pulse doctor, sometimes express not a little curiosity in regard to Dr. R. V. Pierce's original method of distinguishing all forms of chronic disease without personal consultation. Some even suppose that he accomplishes through clairveyance, or some other species of professional jugglery. All this is utterly faise. He claims to determine disease by the rational methods of science outly. Says Comley, in his Biographical Encyclopedia of New York State, speaking of this distinguished physician: "He perceived that in each of the natural sciences the investigator proceeds according to a system of signs. The geologist in his cabinet accurately determines and describes the cleft of rock which he has never seen, from the minute specimen on his table. And the chemist in his laboratory notes the constituents of the sua with the same precision that he analyzes a crystal of rock sait. The analogous system developed by Dr. Pierce in Medical Science is worthy of his genius. For a full explanation of this ingenious system of diagnosis, see The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, sent, post-paid to any address on receipt of one dellar and fifty cents. occured in Venezuela on the 10 th of April which has before been mentione! has been receivec.

About nine o'clock in the evening, without any warning, all the houses fell at once. The great church was seen to lift itself in the air, and then fall with a tremendus crash. A fire kindled among the ruins and completed the wreck of the town, consuming many of the crushed and wounded. In some families as many as ten lives were lost. One of the victims was a bride married that day. Over three hundred lives were lost in all. The shock was at Caraccas, where all the bells rung, and where many of the churches suffered to some extent, but no lives were lost. The streets were filled with frightened people, shricking "Misereri cordia," and calling on the saints for help. The shocks were repeated from time to time, and continued up to May 3d. Thousands left the city to seek asfety in the country, and those remaining alept in gardens or in the public squares. The President and his family occupy a tent in Ilsac. In other parts of Venezuela these shocks were felt, and a week after the first earthquake a part of the town of Ocumare, twenty miles from Cua, was thrown down. Public and private charity was extended to the sufferers at Cus. The destruction of sugar mills and other property was immense. The steamship Hadji, which arrived here yesterday, was at Laguayra April 29th. A shock occured that day, and also at Caraccas, but it was not felt on the water. The officers of the vessel state that a rumbling sound was heard, but nothing more. This working on the steamer. In consequence of the earthquake the steamer obtained a much lighter cargo than usual from Venezuelan ports.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstra ted beyond controversy, that throughout the anima kingdom the "survival of the fitteet" is the only law that vouchasfes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? As interior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Wedicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollare per annum, while the amount ex-ported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such rigastic propor-tions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretion in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new Medical Work published by the Peabody Medical institute, Boston, entited "The Science of Life: or Scif-Freservation." Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, or Vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business may be restored and manhood regimed.

"VALUABLE BOOKS. We have received the valuable medical works published by the Peabody Medical Institute. These books are of actual merit and should find a place in every intelligent family. They are not the cheap-order of abominable trash published by irresponsible parties and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but are written by a responsible porsessional gentleman of eminence as a source of instruction on vital matters, concerning which lamentable ignorance staits. The important subjects presented and treated with delicacy, ability and care, and, as an appendix, many seriul prescriptions for prevailing complaints are added."
